

PLAY READINGS & PIZZA!

Saturday 18th June

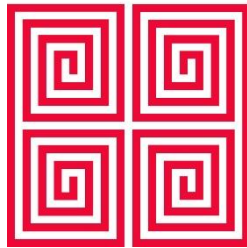

AT 6.30 for 7.00 pm IN THE PLAY SHED

PLEASE JOIN US FOR THE READING OF TWO SHORT PLAYS

MAD

By John Balchin

PATTERNS

By Paula Williams

Pizza will be available for

$5 per head

Drinks available for a small gold coin donation

RSVP BY 13th June

hazelmepham@hotmail.com

0400 225 023

Call for Readers for Play Readings

Saturday 18th June 6.30 for 7pm

We are looking for cast for reading of two plays. As these are readings (just for fun) age of readers is not important. We would hope to have a couple of read throughs on a suitable date prior to the 18th June.

PLEASE CONTACT Hazel Mepham – hazelmepham@hotmail.com 0400 225 023 if interested.

MAD

By John Balchin

This short play takes place in a housing commission home, two males live here, both are intellectually disabled. One is vision and speech impaired he has about 10-15% vision and cannot speak although he is able to make sounds. The other has OCD (obsessive compulsive disorder). They have both been in care for several years and have 24/7 accommodation support. They have several disability support workers who take care of their day to day needs. This play takes place over a 24 hour period and is essentially about the relationship between the two residents and the support workers.

Cast: Peter: male 40-50

Arthur: male 20-30

3 males: Tony, Michael and Harry are male mature age disability support workers

Locksmith: female open age

PATTERNS

By Paula Williams

Synopsis: Can Shirley jump over her own shadow? Caught in a midlife quandary of deciding her future, she reflects on three failed relationships. Will her new affair promise long-sought stability?

Cast: Shirley -39

Bob – ex-husband, car dealer

Dylan –ex boyfriend, truck driver

Selkirk- ex boyfriend- university lecturer

Mike – current boyfriend – architect